Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

VOL. II—No. 4 NOVEMBER, 1911

Journal of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology

Acting Managing Editor, ROBERT H. GAULT,
Assistant Professor of Psychology, Northwestern University.

Managing Director, FREDERIC B. CROSSLEY,
Librarian of the Gary Library of Law, Northwestern University.

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Adalbert Albrecht, North Easton, Mass.

Charles F. Amidon, United States District Judge, Fargo, N. D.

Frederic B. Crossley, Librarian Elbert H. Gary Law Library, Northwestern University.

Charles A. De Courcy, Judge of the Superior Court of Massachusetts, Lawrence, Mass.

Charles A. Ellwood, Professor of Sociology, University of Missouri.

Frederick R. Green, Secretary of the Council on Health and Public Instruction of the American Medical Association, Chicago, Ill.

Charles R. Henderson, Professor of Sociology, University of Chicago.

John D. Lawson, Professor of Law, University of Missouri.

Orlando F. Lewis, Secretary of the New York Prison Association, New York.

Edward Lindsey, Member of the Warren (Pa.) Bar.

Adolf Meyer, Professor of Psychiatry, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

Nathan William MacChesney, of the Chicago Bar; President of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology.

Frank H. Norcross, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nevada, Carson City, Nev.

Roscoe Pound, Professor of Law, Harvard University.

Richard A. Sylvester, Chief of Police, Washington, D. C., President of the International Police Association.

Arthur W. Towne, Secretary of the New York State Probation Commission, Albany, N. Y.

Chester G. Vernier, Professor of Law, University of Indiana.

Guy Montrose Whipple, Professor of Psychology, Cornell University.

John H. Wigmore, Dean of the Northwestern University Law School, Chicago, Ill.

Elmer A. Wilcox, Professor of Law, University of Iowa.

Communications relating to contributions and books for review should be addressed to the Acting Managing Editor, Evanston, Ill.

Subscriptions and business correspondence should be addressed to the Managing Director, Northwestern University Bldg., 31 West Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Issued bi-monthly. Subscription $3.00 per year, 60 cents per number.

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS NUMBER.

George W. Kirchwey is Professor of Law and Dean of the School of Law in Columbia University, Director of the New York (State) Prison Association, Chairman of the New York State Society of Criminal Law and Criminology. He is author of "Readings in the Law of Real Property," 1900; "Select Cases and Other Authorities on the Law of Mortgages," 1901; he was Editor of the Department of Law of the New International Encyclopedia, 1902-04; contributor to legal and other periodicals; Chairman of the Department of Jurisprudence International Convention of Arts and Sciences, 1904.

Arthur McDonald, graduated from the University of Rochester in 1879 and studied law in his father's office for about a year. He then studied theology at Princeton and Union seminaries, graduating from the latter institution in 1883. He then studied philosophy, metaphysics and religion at Harvard. He was appointed "Fellow in Psychology" at Johns Hopkins University in 1885. Subsequently he spent four years in continental universities (Berlin, Leipzig, Paris and Zurich), taking a full medical course. At Leipzig he pursued psycho-physics in Wundt's laboratory. At Paris and Zurich he studied experimental and clinical medicine, including nervous diseases and insanity and hypnotism under Charcot. On returning to America he was made Docent in Criminology at Clark University, and later became specialist in education as related to abnormality in the Bureau of Education at Washington, D. C., from 1892 to 1893. Since that time he has been engaged in patho-social studies. His publications include: "Abnormal Man," being essays on education and crime, criminal sociology, criminal hypnotism, alcoholism, insanity and genius, with digest of literature and a bibliography (Washington, 1893), etc.

Edwin R. Keedy is Professor of Law at Northwestern University. He is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College and the Harvard Law School. He was the first Secretary of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, and is now the Secretary of the American branch of the International Union of Criminal Law. He was a member of the commission which investigated and reported upon the criminal procedure of England, and is the author of a number of articles on criminal law and procedure.

Morton Prince is Professor of Neurology in Tufts College Medical School, and Editor of the Journal of Abnormal Psychology. He is author of "Nature of Mind and Human Automatism," 1885; "Dissociation of a Personality," 1906, etc. He has collaborated in the production of "Nervous Diseases by American Authors," "American System of Practical Medicine," and "International System of Electro-Therapeutics."

Gino C. Speranza, Counsel to the Consul-General of Italy at New York; appointed by Governor Hughes Member Commission of Immigration State of New York, 1908-9. Law Committee Prison Association of New York; Director of Investigation, Bureau of Consulate-General of Italy at New York; some time Special Agent Royal Italian Embassy at Washington for the investigation of labor camps. Delegate to the Colonial Congress at Rome (1911) (Division of Legal Aid to Italian Immigrants); contributor on law and immigration to various magazines and reviews.

Grace Abbott, M. A., University of Chicago. During the past four years resident at Hull House and Director of the Immigrants' Protective League; author of numerous articles on immigration and labor legislation in the American Journal of Sociology, and The Survey.

John Koren, Expert Special Agent of the United States Bureau of the Census in charge of the investigation of delinquents, defectives, etc., and editor of the publications of the American Statistical Association; author of "Economic Aspect of the Liquor Problem," "The Liquor Problem in its Legislative Aspects," and various bulletins.

Nathan William MacChesney, Member of the Chicago Bar, was Secretary of the National Conference on Criminal Law and Criminology, 1909, Member of National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, President of Northwestern University Law Publication Association, Colonel and Judge Advocate, Illinois National Guard and a. d. c. on Staff of Governor Deneen, Member of Executive Board of American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, President of the Institute 1910-1911, Author of numerous articles on labor, property, corporation, and legal matters.